Sogeti Delivers with These Proven Solutions

Project Collaboration and Integration

Integrating your business processes across the entire project lifecycle not only gives your project teams greater clarity of data, but it also allows your decision makers to quickly access information needed to effectively manage risks, costs and personnel.

Item Data Management

By freeing up expensive engineering resources from tactical data maintenance, you'll be able to lower costs and establish reliable data quality rules and processes to enhance your Product Lifecycle/Data Management systems.

Well Data Quality and Visibility

Sogeti partners with leading vendors in data integration lifecycle and asset management to create unique solutions for E&P companies that ensure rigorous and repeatable processes that can be implemented enterprise-wide. With Sogeti, you can access data from multiple sources and receive cleansed and transformed information in batch or real-time.

Business Plant and IT Optimization

We specialize in providing real-time performance reporting and analysis, allowing you to create better communication and more operational transparency. By capitalizing on improved knowledge sharing and aligned strategies, you'll be able to successfully handle vast amounts of information from various business systems, optimize your business processes and reduce your time-to-market.

Environmental Health and Safety

According to OSHA, workplaces that establish comprehensive safety and health management systems can reduce their injury and illness costs by 20 to 40%. With Sogeti you'll be able to automate your processes for compliance reporting, tracking and trending – helping you to better manage requirements from local, state and federal agencies.
