Sogeti Delivers Unparalleled Results

With almost every aspect of the healthcare industry under the country's microscope, providers and payers are under intense scrutiny to reduce waste, eliminate errors and provide affordable, effective care. In order to do this, current supply chains and processes must be updated for patient care, insurance coverage and claims reimbursement.

These complex changes demand systematic, proven frameworks and a specialized expertise in leveraging technology to meet the unique goals of healthcare companies.

Sogeti is ready to help. Our deep healthcare knowledge and 40 year history of technology best practices means you get world-class experts and technology professionals working for you. Sogeti stands out from other IT providers by offering:

- > Fast, Flexible Solutions. Leveraging Sogeti's best practices allows you to implement cost-effective, sophisticated solutions in a surprisingly short amount of time. This increases operational efficiencies, eliminates unnecessary processes and achieves seamless operations across all departments.
- > Complete End-to-End Expertise. From planning and building to running and optimizing, we have experience across the entire healthcare value chain – including strategy, operational change, requirements definition, solution design, delivery, verification and operations.
- > Reliable Service and Delivery. Our "Local Touch-Global Reach" model provides you with the most accessible communication and face-to-face accountability, while leveraging the collective knowledge and best practices of a global team with a 40-year history of delivering technology solutions.

Get the most of technological advances from experts who know healthcare and can successfully implement and manage technology from beginning to end.
